

Death and Birth of a Star

For this assignment you are to write both a newspaper birth announcement and an obituary (death announcement) for a star. Since both require a different format and wording, it would be wise to research the format before writing the announcements.

To receive full credit for this assignment your announcements should carry information about the life cycle of a star and creatively resemble a birth announcement or obituary.

This can be done on the iPad, Word, or PowerPoint as long as it looks professional (not hand written). Be creative!
